

NATO ministerial 2006

The Informal Meeting of NATO defence ministers was covered with a proven DIS digital conference-translation system. AVC supplied the conference system for the Plenary hall, where 36 Ministers held their two days session, together with a translation system for translation into 8 languages for Ministers and 135 delegates. All languages were also distributed to the listening room hosted 150 participants and to the PRESS centre, equipped for 150 journalists. Digital IR transmission showed its strength and perfect audio coverage once again.

Additionally to the conference/translation system, automatic camera position control was developed specially for this occasion. Corresponding camera position was recalled using information from DIS central unit. Picture of the delegate in speak was distributed to all interpretation booths as well as to the listening room and CCTV. During the repositioning the Dome camera to the next speaker, automatically wide-angle picture of the second camera was mixed.
