

Automatized system for transmission and recording

The system enables the media representatives and the general public to view court hearings without interfering with the process itself. It consists of professional controllable cameras, an automatized system for transmission and recording that enables the transfer of picture and sound in professional quality, suitable for live transfer for the requirements of broadcasting, internet providers and direct internet transfer.

