

e-Islands, Videoconference system

The remote learning system enables the merger of regional schools on islands with the main schools on the mainland or on other major islands, enabling regular and equal participation in the educational system for all students located on remote islands, without the necessity of travel for either students, or teachers.

